MEMPHIS APPEAL.

WHO SHALL BE THE CANDIDATE?

Mr. C. C. Langdon, of Mobile, in reply to a number of letters received since his appointment as delegate to the New York Convention, has the following language, after completely disposing of the pretensions of Mr. Chase as the candidate of the Democracy:

I am therefore free to say, that in the New York Convention I shall support no man for the Presidential nomination who does not stand fairly and squarely on the Democratic platform. If we believe the Democratic party right, let us have no other than a true Democrat for President. This is no time for half-way measures nor half-way men; no time for the abandonment of great principles in the delusive hope of conciliating a few doubtful and uncertain men, who are afraid or ashamed to co-operate with a party whose principles and policy they profess to approve. No party ever did, nor ever will, make anything by such a course.

In regard to Mr. Pendleton, I have no hesitation in saying that of all the men named in connection with the office of President, he is my first choice; though I would cheerfully support Gen. Hancock, either of the Seymours, or any other statesman who is fully committed, by word and deed, to the Democratic doctrines of the day. It has been my conviction that Mr. Pendleton had more of the elements of strength than any other man named, and as his qualifications are pre-eminent, and his record without a blemish, I have thought him the proper man for the nomination. And, in this connection, permit me to remark, that I cannot agree with you that "his views on the currency question will cause his failure." On the contrary, I am of the opinion that the great public sentiment of the country is largely in unison with Mr. Pendleton on this subject; and that, if the issue be forced into the canvass (which I trust will not be done) it will add greatly to his strength. I cannot think, however, the bondholding interest will be so short-sighted as to make an issue with Mr. Pendleton on this question, for, rely upon it, on that issue alone they cannot carry a single State, county, township or village in the Union. The time may, and probably will come, when the bondholders will be glad to compromise on Mr. Pendleton's policy; and, if they are as shrewd as they are generally supposed to be, they will do it now. Payment in currency would be much better for them than repudiation.

The Mobile Register (Col. Forsyth) in commenting on an expression of Thurlow Weed's in the New York Commercial, that "if the present Congress fails to reduce interest on the public debt, it will be succeeded by a Congress which will pay the debt in greenbacks," uses the following language:

If the bondholders do not give over making war on the favorites of the people, and threatening to beat with their millions any Democratic candidate who does not make it the cardinal article of his faith that they must be paid in gold, they will before long find themselves as "uneasy" as Thurlow Weed is. Money is powerful in elections, we all know; but there are some deeply rooted popular instincts, some resistless waves of popular sentiment that money can no more repress and control than Xerxes could bind the sea with his puny chains. Let them take care that they do not provoke a feeling in the public mind of the nation that will make them bewail their present temper of selfish arrogance, which, while the temple of the Nation's freedom is burning, and all patriots are rushing to the scene of danger, permits them to see nothing and to think of nothing but their money chests. Beware that you do not overdo this job and kill the goose that lays your golden egg, and that you do not force the coming of the time when you would bless your stars to be able to take the terms of payment that the taxpaying people now offer.

The bondholders committed a great blunder and weighted down their cause when, not content with making war upon Mr. Pendleton and his strong popular backers, they came forward with the proposition to sell out the Democratic party to Judge Chase, the price being "thirty pieces of silver" in United States bonds. Theirs is not a popular cause, and needs no more weight to carry. The tax-payers are in an enormous majority. They constitute the people of the United States, and while they are the debtors for the tax, they are the tribunal in the last resort to try the validity of the debt. The bondholders had better be wise and listen to Thurlow Weed; if not, repudiation, now a breeze that merely rustles through the locks of the bondholders' hair, may, in another year or two, swell into a popular hurricane that will sweep all before it.

They cannot give a more powerful impulse to this elemental war than to turn out of the Democratic Convention a candidate favored by the majority, and who is a model of a Democratic statesman, by the threat of using their boasted millions to defeat him in the canvass, if he should be nominated. This act would fix the great West—the destined seat of Empire—unalterably against them. The bondholders stand on delicate ground, for they have a future as well as a present. Moderation and liberality are their true policy, and not to rouse the popular lion in his lair.

THE LAST RESORT.

It is mooted in private Radical circles here, that in the event of all other schemes failing, in order to secure the election of Grant, the Senate will, if necessary, discard all adverse votes from the South upon some pretext or other, and thus throw the election into the House.—Special to Louisville Courier.

There are many yet living who have not forgotten the intense feeling created when John Quincy Adams, a minority candidate, was elected by the House, over Gen. Jackson, who had a plurality of votes in the Electoral College, and had an excess over Mr. Adams in the popular vote. It was the first time the provision in the Constitution was subjected to such a test, and was acquiesced in, but by no means unmurmuringly. The surly objections were both loud and deep, but patriotism had not all evaporated then, and the Constitution was obeyed. The Senate will not "discard all adverse votes," with impunity. If the South has become acquainted with all sorts of imposition and trickery by which the people are defrauded of their votes, the game has yet to be tried at the North, where the art of submission to any and every enormity has not been so successfully inculcated. With two candidates only, we do not exactly understand how the Senate can devolve the election on the House. However, nothing appears impossible to Radicalism.

—In the windows of two rival hat stores in Washington street, Boston, delicate Panama hats are offered for one hundred and twenty-five dollars in one establishment, and two hundred dollars in the other.

—A French physician, Dr. Lobordette, claims to have discovered a process for restoring life to drowned persons after an immersion of half an hour or more. Indeed, it is said that it has proved effectual where the patient had been under water as much as six hours.

—Mrs. Malvina Matthews, for some time in custody of the military at Natchez, for the murder of private John Moffatt, company E, Twenty-fourth infantry, has been, by order of Gen. McDowell, transferred to the civil authorities for trial.

The Murder of Maj. Richard Maney.

From the New Orleans Crescent, 26th.]

Last evening, between eight and nine o'clock, a terrible tragedy was enacted in Victor's celebrated restaurant, on Canal street. Maj. Richard Maney, of Nashville, Tenn., entered the restaurant and called for supper. The proprietor told him he was already in debt for a certain sum, and he could hardly expect credit for a further bill. Maj. Maney became angry, and after some altercation retired to his seat, near the side door adjoining the principal entrance. He had another difficulty with a third party, who had just entered, and rising from his seat, they approached the window fronting Canal street. One of the waiters called the proprietor's attention to the scuffle. He went towards the front of the restaurant, but before he reached that part of the room, the person engaged in the altercation, but whose face he could not see, because his back was towards him, made his way out of the building. The proprietor (or rather Mr. George Martin, the proprietor's nephew,) then advanced to Major Maney, who, up to that moment, had been standing with his back to the front window, and seeing him faltering, but noticing no blood on his shirt, drew a chair forward and asked him to sit down. At this juncture, the blood spirted out from Major Maney's mouth and from two wounds in his breast, over the region of the heart. He staggered and fell upon his back into the entry, and died immediately. The writer went to the scene about eleven o'clock and found a crowd on the street in front of the premises. Making his way inside, he found Major Maney's body where it had fallen, the heavy mustache clotted with gore, and his shirt and white vest so ensanguined as to make the spectator believe they were composed of red flannel. Two deadly wounds, about an inch wide, had penetrated the heart, and the left hand had been pierced by the murderous weapon, most probably when the unfortunate man had raised it to protect his breast after the first thrust. It was the writer's opinion, on viewing the body, that the wounds had been made with a Dufilho or a cork-screw knife, a terrible weapon, the handle of which is grasped in the hand transversely, and the blade projects from between two of the fingers, so that the holder strikes a forward blow in the manner of a boxer. By whom, or on what account, this deed was enacted, it is impossible, at the late hour at which this is written, to determine. Up to half-past eleven o'clock no arrest had been made, and there was hardly any clue to the perpetrator. The police are on the qui vive, and there is no doubt as to securing his arrest.

Maj. Maney, we are told, was a brother of Gen. Maney, who commanded a brigade in Gen. Joseph E. Johnston's army in Tennessee. He possessed an adventurous and daring spirit, and years ago went with Maj. Bob Wheat to Italy, where he fought very bravely, as a member of Garibaldi's staff, and was decorated. He returned to his native country just in time to participate in the opening scenes of the late war, on the Confederate side, and fought gallantly to the end of the struggle. He could scarcely have been over thirty years of age, and was a very fine-looking and athletic man.

It was a lamentable spectacle, that of the corpse of a gallant gentleman, who, an hour previously, was in the early prime of life, well dressed, hopeful and comely, lying bathed in its own gore, in the sand sprinkled over the entry to the restaurant; a table cloth, which had been hastily jerked from some festive table, serving as a shroud. The body lay as it had fallen, awaiting the coroner, and very justly, for it is the duty of the coroner and his jury to see and investigate everything just as it happened.

TENNESSEE.

—Mr. Leo Wheat has again been successful in concertizing at Nashville. The Gazette of the 27th says: With Wheat's talent and Farmer's genius, and the assistance of such artistes as took part in the programme, what more could we expect than the most perfect success?

—Under the impression that concealed treasure lies buried in the front yard of Capt. W. J. Hawson's residence at Nashville, parties have repaired thither at night and dug up the place. The Captain has given fair warning that if they do so again they may get a load of lead for their trouble.

—A letter to the Louisville Journal dated the 23d, has the following item of news, that has not before appeared on the surface:

Bill Stokes is said to be fixing things in East Tennessee to have himself nominated as successor of Gov. Brownlow. Tom Hamilton is reported to have the same object in view while asking to be nominated for Congressman for the State at large. It is not unlikely that the colored voters of West Tennessee may insist upon the nomination of Barbour Lewis for the same position. Lewis is a cool, plausible and unscrupulous. He is now chief County Commissioner for Shelby county, and wants to be Presidential elector. Mr. Fitch, who was defeated as a (moderate) Radical candidate for the Mayoralty at the last municipal election in Memphis, is also pressed by his friends for the electorship. He is a very able man and fine speaker, but the Radical party in Tennessee has in it few as adroit politicians as Barbour Lewis. The Hon. Dan Sunn, who represents West Tennessee in Congress, is home to look after his personal interests. This is necessary, as it is proposed to push him overboard for the benefit of W. J. Smith, who wants to go to Congress. The Hunter, Lewis and Eaton factions of the Radical party will all support Smith. The Beaumont faction is yet undecided what it will do. During the impeachment trial Lewis and Smith pledged themselves not to favor any anti-Nunn movement if Nunn would work to have the President convicted, and when Wade became President, would have Lewis made United States Judge for a new district of West Tennessee, or postmaster, and Smith collector or assessor. Wade not being made President, Lewis and Smith, who went on to Washington to fix things with Nunn, came back disappointed, and don't think they are bound by any pledges.

Theatrical Statistics.

A correspondent of the Pall Mall Gazette furnishes the following theatrical statistics:

There are at the present time in Great Britain 156 theaters, 33 of which are in London, 6 are in Liverpool and 8 in Glasgow, as well as 14 circuses in various parts of the kingdom. Of the metropolitan theaters 8 have been totally destroyed by fire during the past 27 years, namely: Astley's, the Garrick Theater, Lemans street Whitechapel, the Olympic, Pavilion, Covent Garden, Surrey, Standard and her Majesty's Theater. During the past year 125 new pieces were produced at the London theaters, and 21 Christmas burlesques and pantomimes. The drama of Meg's Diversion, by Mr. H. T. Craven, had a run of 330 successive nights; and on the 22d of November Mr. F. C. Burnand's burlesque of Black-eyed Susan reached the 300th night of performance. The Flying Scud was performed for 200 nights, and the drama of The Great Gun, as well as the farce of My Turn Next, each ran for 100 nights. There are 40 music halls in London, and the artists thereof comprise 171 sentimental singers, 170 comic singers, 12 Irish comic, and 117 serio-comic performers. There are also 95 comic duetists, 101 parties of so-called 'negro delineators,' 43 single, duetto, or troupes of dancers, 108 single or associated gymnasts and acrobats, 10 jugglers, balancers, etc., 8 dog and monkey troupes, 9 comic trios, quartets, ballet companies, etc., and 16 wizards and ventriloquists.

—The Newark Advertiser (Radical) says "It is the easiest thing in the world for Democracy to succeed in the Presidential election of 1868." The portents are all leaning that way, unless in blind folly and eager, mad infatuation, the substance should be thrown away to seize the shadow.

EUREKA LIFE-BLOOD ELIXIR

HAS at last made its way into this country, after having been in use in the old world for so many years, and especially in China. The celebrated alchemist and chemist, Dr. Hepserdam, of Pekin, China, has at last consented to his great CHINESE REMEDY being introduced on this continent, and has established a few wholesale agencies for the purpose of supplying all druggists throughout the towns and cities of our country. This great Blood Medicine has performed cures (the most astonishing), where every other remedy known in Materia Medica has most signally failed.

ALBERT PIKE & CO.

Vera Atque Honesta Dicere.

For President of the United States,

ANDREW JOHNSON,

OF TENNESSEE.

Subject only to the decision of the National Democratic Conservative Convention.]

PLATFORM OF THE TENNESSEE DEMOCRACY.

1st. The Conservative men of Tennessee, putting aside all questions decided by the war, accept the title of 'Democrats,' and formally unite themselves with the Democratic party as it now exists.

2d. The question of the right of a State to secede from the Union has been decided by arms, and that decision should be accepted as final and conclusive.

3d. Nevertheless, while the Constitution makes the Federal Government supreme, it is so only with well defined limitations and restrictions, leaving the States large rights and powers over their domestic concerns, and making them co-equal in respect of such rights; and these rights have not been impaired by the result of the war, or the powers of the General Government aggrandized by it, to the endangerment of public liberty.

4th. The extinguishment of African Slavery is recognized as a fact, ratified by a binding Constitutional Amendment.

5th. The investiture of negroes with the right of suffrage, by the Congress of the United States, and the disfranchisement of white men, by the same authority, is a gross usurpation of power, and a policy unjust, unwise and oppressive, and tending to excite a war of races: the white men of America are entitled to superiority and supremacy in the administration of the Federal and State governments; and any measure intended to deprive them of it, or to divide or impair it, greatly endangers the perpetuity of free republican institutions.

6th. The faith of the nation is pledged to the payment of the national debt, according to the terms of the laws under which the bonds were issued, and not otherwise. The time of payment of the bonds ought not to be extended; the principal of the five-twenty bonds ought to be paid in currency, and the money granted to the National banks to be withdrawn.

7th. The Government bonds should be taxed in the hands of the bondholders, equally with other property.

8th. The doctrines and practices of the Radical party, which endeavors, by encroaching upon the powers of the Executive and Judicial branches of the Government, to absorb in the Legislative Department all powers, tend to the destruction of the Republican system of Government and the civil liberties of the people.

9th. Equal and exact justice to all men, of whatever State or persuasion, religious or political; peace, commerce and honest friendship with all nations; entangling alliances with none; the support of the State Governments in all their rights, as the most competent administration of our domestic concerns and the surest bulwark against anti-Republican tendencies; the preservation of the General Government in its whole constitutional vigor, as the sheet anchor of peace at home and safety abroad; a jealous care of the rights of election by the people and the supremacy of the civil over the military authority.

10th. Andrew Johnson the first choice of the Democracy of Tennessee; but their Delegates left free to unite in selecting another as the candidate for the Presidency.

THE WISDOM OF CONCILIATION.

After Solomon the wise King of Israel had died, all Israel went to Shechem to make his son Rehoboam King. And Jeroboam and all the congregation of Israel said to Rehoboam, "Thy father made our yoke grievous; now therefore make thou the grievous service of thy father, and his heavy yoke which he put upon us, lighter, and we will serve thee."

Rehoboam consulted with the old men that stood before Solomon his father, and these said to him: "If thou wilt be a servant unto this people this day, and will serve them and answer them and speak good words unto them, then they will be thy servants for ever."

But he forsook their counsel, and consulted with the young men who had grown up with himself, and upon their advice replied roughly to Jeroboam and all the people, saying, "My father made your yoke heavy, and I will add to your yoke: my father chastised you with whips; but I will chastise you with scorpions."

And all Israel said, "What portion have we in David? Neither inheritance in the son of Jesse. To your tents, O Israel! Now see to thine own house, David!" And so Israel departed unto their tents, and made Jeroboam King, and none followed the house of David, but the tribes of Judah and Benjamin.

The Kingdom of Solomon is the type of an united nation, ruled by wise legislation. It became upon his death the type of every kingdom and people that permits itself to be rent asunder by the rivalries of ambition, conflicting claims to the possession of the crown, the animosities and follies of those who imagine themselves statesmen, when scarcely apprentices to the trade, and whom the people generally delight to honor, and prefer to place in power. It is still more peculiarly the type, to us, of a people alienated by harsh and severe measures, by insults and degradations, and military despotism, and deprivation of all the rights of freemen. Divided into the two kingdoms of Judah and Israel, continually wrangling with each other, and always embroiled with the neighboring nations, and the restless tribes that shared Palestine with them, they wasted and exhausted their strength and resources in wars, and were in succession destroyed by the Kings of Assyria. The annihilation of Israel, as a monarchy and people, was complete. The whole of the Ten Tribes were expatriated, and colonies of barbarians planted in their country; and it is to this day completely unknown what became of the Ten Tribes.

Judah and Benjamin continued to maintain a precarious existence, in a feeble kingdom occupying a narrow territory, with a powerful kingdom on either side, Egypt and Assyria, to each of which it was tributary in turn, paying the price of safety even with the gold torn from the doors and pillars of the temple, and fighting as the tributary ally of one against the other. In general they worshipped the false Gods of the neighboring tribes, until, wearied by their bad faith and frequent revolts, the Assyrian King destroyed Jerusalem and the Temple, and drove most of the people as captives into the Babylonian dominions.

It is a pregnant lesson; but in matters of national concern, mankind seem never to heed such lessons, and to learn nothing in the school of experience. The Temple and the Holy City are symbols of that political and civil liberty which Judah and Israel lost, and which generally disappears before civil war. The delays in rebuilding the Temple and the walls of the city, the obstacles and impediments interposed, the pause and retrogression and subsequent advance, and final completion of both, are the symbol of the slow and painful recovery of its liberties by a people that once insanely or stupidly permits them to be ravished from its grasp. Always, it is easier to lose than to recover; and nations, sometimes, like individuals, commit injustices and follies, only to be atoned for by the lingering disgrace of subjugation and servitude, ending only in the disintegration of Death. Every man and every woman, in every nation under the sun, high or low, rich or poor, is always at work to hasten or avert this catastrophe; and the idle are often the busiest architects of ruin.

The kingdom of Solomon was rent asunder, when wisdom ceased to inspire the ruler, and he preferred harshness to severity, and thought that the hate of a people was not dangerous. The Northern States, of what was once a Union of States, are imitating the policy of Rehoboam, making the yoke of the Southern States heavier, and lashing them with whips of scorpions. They are hourly sowing the dragon's teeth, from which will grow up hatreds as thickly as the stalks of wheat on a fruitful field.

It was not rancour, hatred or revenge that caused Cato to pronounce in the Roman Senate, and the Senate and people of Rome to approve, the stern decree, "Carthage must be destroyed." It was a cold and cruel policy. To have governed a city as powerful as Carthage by the laws of force and the right of conquest, would have been to plant and nurse upon the frontier of the State a constantly growing danger. The discontents of countries subjugated and oppressed are always dangerous, and the hatreds of races are of long endurance. The hate of the Celt for the Saxon has lasted from the time of Cromwell, and is now more rancorous than ever.

It was policy, also, which caused the Babylonian King to break down the walls of Jerusalem, and destroy the Temple, and carry the mass of the people away as captives, across the Euphrates, and to plant Assyrian colonies in Samaria. If the conquerer cannot conciliate the conquered he had better exterminate them. To persecute and harass and vex and plague them, and remind them daily that they are slaves, is the very extravagance of folly. The day is coming when the people of the South will hate the North as the Poles hate the Russians. They are already two distinct peoples. The nationality of the South is established, though it could not win against numbers. It is a nation subjugated, and for the time ruled by force; as much a nation, in fact, as Hungary was when Austria, aided by Russia, had put down the attempt to win independence. The struggle made the South a nation. It had the government and the flag and the armies of a nation. It has its glorious memories of victory, and of defeats not less glorious; and it has the bones of its dead, who fell fighting, and were neither traitors or rebels.

That which is persecuted, grows. The South has only to wait. No people was ever content with a single struggle for independence;—but each, like Truth, though crushed to earth rises again and again, and continually renews the struggle, until it succeeds or is annihilated. The North, 'reconstructing' the Southern States by force and fraud, is arming against itself a host of foes, who might have become its friends, but for the idiocy of its folly.

MISSISSIPPI.

—At Vicksburg, on the evening of the 25th, an altercation occurred between Walker Cowan, Esq., and Lawrence Genella, the keeper of a saloon. But few words passed between them, when the former drew a small Colt's revolver, and shot the latter through the head, killing him instantly. From circumstances, it was thought a difficulty had taken place within the saloon, in which Cowan had been the sufferer, and while heated with passion had avenged himself. He was arrested.

—The Vicksburg Herald of the 27th says: From every side the glad tidings reach us of overwhelming majorities. It is no longer a question of doubt; it is clearly established to the mind of the most sanguine and hopeful among the Radicals, that the Constitution has been terribly defeated. The mighty East, with her great energy, patriotism and industry has piled up a very mountain of votes against the Constitution. Mississippi has spoken in thunder tones and Radicalism is dead forever in the State; no chance to ever re-establish a foothold again.

The same paper says: The election in the city yesterday passed off comparatively quiet. There were not such crowds present as were witnessed the day before. The Democrats have polled a much larger vote than was anticipated, and as a consequence the Radicals are suffering scutely from facial elongation. They are certainly the most woe-begone and despondent looking set imaginable. They have cast honor, honesty, dignity and everything upon this one card, and having lost, they are utterly bankrupted. A great many negroes voted the Democratic ticket.

ARKANSAS.

—The Little Rock Gazette of the 27th says: "A bill is pending in the Assembly so changing the laws of inheritance as to make property descend to all offspring of the same father alike, whether legitimate or not."

—The same paper says: "The records of Capt. Patton's office show that the internal revenue tax in this district—Second Congressional—for the year ending May 1, 1868, on incomes and special taxes (the last item includes licenses) is $23,258. The taxes last year for a like purpose were $38,522. Among the most reasonable causes assigned for this remarkable change, is the falling off of capital employed in the production of cotton."

—The Little Rock Republican of the 27th says: "Tuesday next (to-day) has been set as the day on which the inauguration of officers under the new State Government shall take place."

—A New York paper reports the discovery by a farmer of Long Island, in plowing, of a number of silver coins, and appends an invitation to all the fools in the land by saying that they are supposed to be a part of the treasure buried by a pirate, who concealed about $35,000 in this mysterious way forty years ago.

—Gov. Bullock has issued a proclamation convening the Legislature of Georgia on the 4th of July.

—Advices received at Washington from Senator Grimes, of Iowa, say that his recovery is now impossible. His memory is rapidly failing, and his mind is becoming so weak that he complains of not being able to think. Some attribute this sudden decay to the abuse he received from the New York Tribune and other Radical journals for the part he took in preventing conviction in the impeachment trial.

Several Southern delegates to the Democratic Convention paid their respects to the President to-day.

Gen. Grant leaves to-morrow morning for the West. Gen. Rawlings remains to attend to the official business.

The Deficiency bill, reported to the House to-day, appropriates $2,549 287, and includes $520,090 for reconstruction purposes.

The Senate has confirmed the nomination of Rear Admiral Dahlgreen to be Chief of Ordnance.

The Senate has ratified the Free Immigration and Naturalization Treaty with Bavaria.

The Sub-Committee on Retrenchment has taken some testimony concerning the management of the Printing Bureau connected with the Treasury Department, but has not yet completed the investigation, and the recommendation has been made, as stated, that the printing operations be transferred, for the greater part if not altogether, to New York.

NEW ORLEANS.

NEW ORLEANS, June 29.—Another squad of supposed filibusters, numbering about 80, were captured near Fort Livingston, Louisiana, yesterday, and brought to Fort Jackson. But two among them were apparently exercising any authority, and the majority were Mexicans. A small lugger was loaded with provisions, which was also captured, but no arms were found, except a single Colt's repeater. The prisoners assert that they are peaceable citizens, intent upon a legitimate object.

The Supreme Conclave of the Order of the Serene Wise Men, being the highest tribunal of that Order, is now holding its annual session in this city, and is largely attended. The session will be prolonged.

The Louisiana Legislature was convened to-day.

The Senate was called to order at noon by Lieutenant Governor Dunn, and the temporary Secretary was ordered to read Gen. Buchanan's order promulgating Grant's order for the removal of Baker and Voorhees, and the appointment of Warmouth and Dunn, as Provisional Governor and Provisional Lieutenant Governor, in their stead, and also Warmouth's proclamation convening the Legislature. The roll was then called from Gen. Buchanan's order, announcing the names of those elected, and thirty-four members answered.

Grant's order to Buchanan, approving of the action of the latter in relation to municipal affairs, and suggesting that only the oath prescribed by the new Constitution be required of newly elected officers, was also read.

Dunn then announced that he was not prepared to comply with Grant's suggestion, but would require the test oath to be taken.

The Democrats appealed, arguing that the presiding officer had no authority to prescribe any oath whatever, and that the Legislature was convened under the new Constitution, and that no other oath than the one therein specified could be demanded, and moved to refer the matter to the commanding general.

Dunn ruled that until the members had qualified no appeal could be taken from motion offered, and ordered the roll to be called, and the members who could do so, to come forward and take the test oath as their names were called. The Democratic members entered a protest and refused to take the oath, several asserting their ability to do so, but denying Dunn's right to demand it. Nineteen, a bare quorum, took the oath; after which the Constitutional oath was administered and a Committee on Credentials and Elections appointed. Several contests for seats were referred, and the body adjourned until noon to-morrow. After the adjournment, a large number of negroes crowded around the black presiding officer, to offer their congratulations. Four of the Senators are full-blooded negroes and several are mixed; all of whom are Radicals.

The House was called to order by Col. Bacheider, of Gen. Buchanan's staff, who called the roll.

R. S. Isabelle, a negro, was elected temporary chairman, who took the test oath, and on taking his seat announced, in reply to a protest, that no member who could not take the test oath could take his seat.

Fifty-three (a quorum) took the required oath, a majority of the Democrats withdrawing.

A committee on Elections was appointed, and the House adjourned until noon.

McMillan, a Radical, entered a protest against the recognition of the authority of General Buchanan to interfere in the organization of the House, and concluded his remarks as follows: "And when this House is once organized, then I desire to announce to Col. Bachelder and to Gen. Buchanan and to the United States army at large, if necessary, that all interference on the part of the army must cease."

The proportion of negroes in the House is greater than in the Senate.

CONGRESSIONAL.

SENATE.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—Howard, from the Military Committee, reported favorably on the bill for the discontinuance of the Freedman's Bureau. The bill provides that the Commissioner shall withdraw the Bureau from all the States entitled to representation on the first of January next, or as soon thereafter as may be done without injury to the Government. The Educational Department of the Bureau and the collection and payment of money due sailors and soldiers shall be continued until otherwise ordered by the action of Congress. It also provides for the continuance in office of the present Commissioner, except in case of his death or resignation, when the office is to be filled only by the appointment of the President, by the nomination of the Secretary of War, and with the consent of the Senate.

A joint resolution directing the withholding of money due from the United States to any State in default in the payment of the principal or interest on its stock or bonds held by the United States in trust, was passed.

Thayer, from the Military Committee, reported a bill to regulate the military establishment of ——.

The Senate agreed to hold an evening session to consider it.

The Colorado bill then came up, but was soon laid aside by a vote of 21 to 20.

The civil appropriation bill was then taken up, and amended by increasing the appropriation for the issue of Treasury notes to the amount of $1,500,000, which was adopted.

Fowler introduced a bill to provide for the election of certain Territorial officers by the people, and after a short executive session, the Senate took a recess.

EVENING SESSION.

Wilson's bill for the government of the army was considered. About a dozen Senators were present. The bill is elaborate, varying but little, however, from the provisions of the regulations except in imposing somewhat stricter penalties for the violation of its provisions.

Wilson offered an amendment as an additional section, providing for punishment by cashiering for conviction of gambling.

HOUSE.

Numerous bills and joint resolutions were introduced for reference, among which were a bill to extend to Mr. Atkinson the provisions of the agricultural college bill, and another to aid in the construction of a railroad and telegraph line from the Rio Grande to the Pacific Ocean.

Cobb offered a bill levying a tax of at least ten per cent. on the interest on the bonds of the United States, to be assessed and collected annually by the Secretary of the Treasury and such subordinates as may be charged with the duty of paying the interest on the bonded indebtedness of the United States, which was passed by 92 to 54.

The Secretary of the Treasury was called upon for a statement of the removals of revenue officers by the Commissioner and the President, and the River and Harbor Appropriation bill was taken up. Fifteen thousand dollars was allowed for the Tennessee river from its mouth to Florence, and $90 000 from Chattanooga to Decatur; $18,000 of the $250,000 for the Ohio, was ordered to be applied in experimenting on the value of shifting sluices.

Root, of Arkansas, moved to make an appropriation for the improvement of White river, which was rejected.

The Ouachita, White and Black rivers in Arkansas, the latter to Poplar Bluffs, Mo., were added to the rivers to be surveyed.

Leaves of absence were granted to many of the Democratic members, and the Senate adjourned.

—Twenty-five hundred dollars has been refused for a tapestry picture which is now on exhibition at Hartford, Ct. Four thousand skeins of worsted were used in making it.

—The Japanese Dickens, Kioyte Bakin by name, has written one story in one hundred and six volumes, which was thirty-eight years going through the press.

—The pearl fishery grounds recently discovered in Western Australia extend along the coast for one thousand miles. Upwards of sixty tons of pearl oysters were fished up in December last, and sold for £100 per ton.

—Among the more recent inducements for people to take the Weekly Tribune, Greeley has concluded to send no more of his photographs in future.

TENNESSEE.

—The Murfreesboro Monitor of the 27th says: A large number of our citizens either have already gone, or are preparing to go to New York to attend the Democratic Convention. We even hear of a number of ladies, who, fired with a spirit of patriotism, have determined to be in attendance at the Convention. In point of numbers and enthusiasm it will doubtless far excel any former demonstration of the kind in this country.

—Some people have an affinity with, or proclivity for spoons. The Murfreesboro Monitor says: On Wednesday an accredited minister of the "Butler dynasty" paid a visit to the boarding house of Capt. Raps, and upon examination after his departure, the spoons of the table were found to have departed with him.

—The Murfreesboro Monitor says: The corner stone of the Missionary Baptist Church, situated on Main street, was laid by the Masonic fraternity on Wednesday. Dr. J. B. Murfree, Deputy Grand Master; Maj. H. P. Keeble, Assistant Grand Master; Jno. J. McKnight, Grand Senior Warden; R. D. Reed, Grand Junior Warden; Rev. Dr. Van Hose, Grand Chaplain; Capt. W. A. Raps, Grand Marshal. There were quite a number of the fraternity and citizens present to witness the impressive ceremonies.

—The Trenton Gazette of Saturday says: "The M. and O. Railroad is now making regular trips, having adjusted all difficulties. We would ask the creditors along the road to exercise a little liberality, as the worst has been passed, and the earnings of the road can now be applied to the payment of the current expenses, and the outstanding debts due for work and materials along the road. When the war ended, the rolling stock was nearly all worn out, and had to be replaced at an enormous expense; among others, one hundred and forty freight cars were purchased, and the first earnings of the road pledged for their payment. This debt has been discharged, and the outstanding interest that accumulated during the war has been funded, so that the road is now upon a better footing than it has been for a long time. If sustained in their efforts by the friends of the road, the present efficient officers will soon pay off all encumbrances, and put the road in a comparatively easy condition."

—Building is said to be brisk all over Knoxville.

—The steamer Resaca is reported to have been fired upon in the vicinity of Louisville. Two shots struck her hurricane roof.

—The Knoxville Herald of the 27th says: The United States Circuit and District Courts, Hon. C. F. Trigg presiding, adjourned on Friday till court in course. A number of important cases have been disposed of at this term, and a number of still more important ones will come off next term, growing out of the developments made in the Harris trial. Several parties have been indicted for defrauding the Government at Chattanooga, and two of the witnesses in Harris' case are indicted for perjury.

—A terrific hail storm occurred at Knoxville on Friday afternoon—one of the most furious ever known there.

NEEDS REPAIRING.—The culvert and gutter crossing on the corner of Hill and Mosby streets, are in a dreadful condition, rendering travel over them at night extremely perilous to life and limb. It should be attended to immediately.

OUR city was left in total darkness after the moon went down, night before last—not a single lamp having been lit in any portion of it. This is outrageous, and should be investigated by the Board of Aldermen.

RETURNED.—The many friends of Mr. Leo Wheat and Henry Farmer will be pleased to learn that they have returned to the city, after a most successful detour, during which they delighted large audiences with their exquisite music. We welcome them "home again," and shall be more than gratified when they enable us to enjoy again the caprices of the piano and the fantasies of the flute.

DEATH OF MR. O'CONNOR.—This unfortunate gentleman, who was so foully and cruelly waylaid on Friday night by the Thugs, died on Sunday evening. Coroner Samuelson held an inquest on the body yesterday morning, and returned a verdict that the deceased came to his death from a fracture of the skull inflicted by a slungshot in the hands of a negro or negroes unknown to the jury.

LA SALETTE.—The New Memphis Theater will be thrown open this evening to receive the parents and friends of the pupils of Notre Dame de la Salette, who will assemble to witness the closing ceremonies of the present school session. Parties desiring to attend are requested to secure tickets of admission during the day, as we are informed that no one that has not a card of invitation will be admitted.

PERSONAL.

—We had the pleasure of a cordial shake of the hand yesterday from our old friend, J. F. Going, Esq., of the house of Hubbell, Swasey & Co., wine merchants, of Cincinnati. He is stopping at the Overton.

—The Hon. Robert W. Johnson, of Arkansas, passed through the city yesterday, en route for home. He has been spending some days at Louisville, Ky., where he left his beautiful and accomplished daughter.

—Monroe Goodbar, Esq., of that staunch boot and shoe house of Goobar & Gilliland, left the city yesterday for Boston, to lay in a large stock of fall goods in their line.

—The degree of Doctor Divinitati's was was conferred on the Rev. T. D. Witherspoon, by the faculty and trustees of the University of Mississippi, at their late commencement. Dr. Witherspoon is a graduate of the University, and though quite a young man, is said to be a learned and eloquent divine.

A SENSATION CANARD.—The Appeal and Avalanche of Sunday copied from the Nashville Banner an article of some length, stating that a daughter of Dr. Peters had arrived in St. Louis, where she was about to enter a convent and take the veil. We know Dr. Peters, and are able emphatically to state that there is not a single word of truth in the statement to which we have alluded. Miss Peters is on a visit to St. Louis, but has no idea of entering a convent and taking the veil. On the contrary, she will return to Memphis and reside here; nor has her father's grief become a fixed melancholy, or the Church his resource. The suicide of the son, also, was not in any degree caused by the domestic troubles spoken of in the article from the Banner, copied from the St. Louis Times, but by depression of spirits at the loss of many friends in the Confederate service, and his own wounds.

MEMPHIS LADIES' INSTITUTE.

The spacious hall in the Greenlaw Opera House was filled last night with a brilliant and refined audience to witness the closing exercises of the pupils of the Memphis Ladies' Institute. The exercises consisted of music, instrumental and vocal, addresses, and the presentation of medals to the graduating class. The grand overture for nine performers was most magnificent, and equalled, if not surpassed, anything of the sort to which we ever listened. The opening chorus, "The Summer Days are Coming," by the younger pupils, was also charming. At its close the graduates, Misses Kate Farris, Esther Damon, Helen Bradshaw, Kate Williams, Ella Thomas, Mollie Phillips, and Carrie Reichenberger were crowned, and the regular order of the evening's exercises commenced, which on account of the length of the programme, we shall not be able to notice seriatim, but present an outline sketch of it.

After two or three songs and recitations, the Salutatory was delivered by Miss Ella Thomas. It was beautifully worded, and Miss Thomas spoke with fine effect. She was followed by some splendid instrumental music, by Misses Phillips, Quackenbos and Whitmore, and Miss Esther Daman read an excellent essay on "Good Women." She handled the subject with considerable skill, and displayed a fine moral conception of the subject.

The next essay was on "Night," by Miss Carrie Reichenberger—was very beautifully written and well read, displaying a great deal of poetic talent, as did the "Memoriam" recitation of Miss Linda Oliver. Miss Helen Bradshaw's rendering of an exquisite "fantasia" from Luci de Lammermoor, charmed all hearts. The next essay was by Miss Mollie Phillips, and was on the subject of "The Far-off Hills of the Future," which she handled with an ease and grace rarely met with in compositions of the sort. "The Scholar's Dream" is the title of the next essay, which was read by Miss Kate Williams in an admirable manner. Miss Helen Bradshaw's essay on "Music" displayed close study and a thorough knowledge of the subject which she had chosen, and she read it in a style which pleased every hearer. She was followed by Miss Kate Williams, who performed some of Liszt's most beautiful and difficult music; after which Miss Kate Farris came forward and delivered the valedictory, which, as a composition for soul and pathos, excelled any other feature of the evening, and visibly affected more than one of her hearers.

After the valedictory and a Mazourka played by Miss Florence White, the graduating class played a piece of music composed by Professor Winkler especially for the occasion, entitled "The Graduate's March," with a flute and violin accompaniment by Messrs. Hobday and Hollenberg. After the march followed the presentation of medals and conferring diplomas, two very interesting ceremonies, which we were compelled to lose, as also the "parting song," from Donizetti.

At the close of the exercises Miss Kate Williams was called to the front of the stage, when Rev. Dr. Brooke, on behalf of Prof. A. Shade, presented her with a magnificent gold medal, bearing the inscription: "From A. Shade to Miss Kate Williams. Music—Perfect in execution because faithful in practice." The well deserved and unexpected compliment was acknowledged with becoming grace by the fair recipient, amid the enthusiastic applause of the audience.

The entertainment closed shortly after ten o'clock, and the assemblage dispersed to their homes, all most heartily pleased. We congratulate the ladies, Mrs. Southworth and Mrs. McGhee, on their admirable management. Altogether the evening was a most de... one, and will, no doubt, high... remembered by those who long be... in it; especially by the participate... then and there bade young ladies ... farewell," to their "farewell, a long ... which we, in the turn, school days—days ... and delightful regard as the most joyous ... them a period of a lifetime. POLICE ITEMS.

—There were six arrests up to six o'clock yesterday evening in the lower District—all for trivial offenses.

—Sergeant Brown was not examined yesterday afternoon, as was expected he would be. The examination was postponed by 'Squire Kiernan until to-morrow morning. It is probable, however, that he will not be examined at all before a Justice, but will be indicted by the Grand Jury of the Criminal Court, now in session, to-day, and be sent immediately before that body. We hope that he may have a speedy trial, and prophecy that he will be justified in his action.

—Mrs. Donnegan's case, for receiving stolen goods, was again postponed yesterday. It will come up before 'Squire Griffith to-day. Meanwhile she is out under $2000 bonds for her appearance.

—Susan Ford, a black Aspasia, whose kinky locks have been silvered with the snows of eighteen summers, sued out a peace warrant against Annie Lynch, a sister nymph and co-denizen of "Hell's Half Acre," yesterday, and had her brought before 'Squire Black, swearing that the bellicose and scrumptious Annie had threatened to do her grievous bodily harm. The 'Squire bound Annie over in the sum of $500 to keep the peace for six months. Annie then charged Susan with the selfsame design on her person, and the 'Squire made it a stand-off by binding Susan over in the same sum for the same length of time.

—Kelly, who was shot by Ben Garrett, is doing well and will recover.

RIVER MATTERS.

WEATHER AND RIVERS.

ST. LOUIS, June 29.—The river is rising steadily at this point.

LOUISVILLE, June 29.—The river is falling slowly, with 4 feet 7 inches in the canal, and less than 5 feet over the Portland Bar.

The weather is cloudy and very warm.

MEMPHIS, June 29.—Weather very warm. A shower of rain fell just before noon, laying the dust, but doing very little towards cooling off the atmosphere, which at dusk was close and sultry. The river at this point is reported falling. The latest intelligence from the upper rivers will be found above. White river has seven feet to Augusta. The Arkansas has scant three feet to the Rock, and two feet to Fort Smith. From the time the Mollie Hambleton left Wittsburg on her last trip until she left the same point this trip, or just one week, the St. Francis river fell twenty feet. The rapid decline was caused by the fall in the Mississippi.

Steamers Gleaner, Commercial and Mollie Hambleton.

MISCELLANEOUS.

The Commercial came in yesterday with a good trip, as usual, and leaves today for the points on White river, at 5 p.m. She is the regular U. S. mail packet, connecting with the Little Rock train, and making all way landings. Capt. Wm. Ashford is master, and Charley Smithers clerk of the old reliable.

The fine steamer Marble City, Capt. Conway, leaves on Thursday for Cairo and St. Louis.

The City of Cairo left last evening for St. Louis, with an excellent passenger trip. We are rejoiced to see this old favorite line again doing a large share of business.

The Mollie Hambleton, Capt. Bowman, with Paine, Clark and Sheil in the office, leaves for the St. Francis river and all way points to-day, at 5 p.m. promptly. She brought up several consignments of new wheat.

The splendid passenger packet, Mollie Able, Capt. Nat Green, will pass down for New Orleans to-day at 10 a.m., and those wishing to make a trip below had better prepare accordingly. No better boat runs the river, and no better commander treads a roof than Commodore Nat. Cook Creighton is chief secretary and John Langlois is assistant.

The Norman will be in port, to leave to-day at noon for Louisville and way points. She will make good time up the Ohio.

We learn by a dispatch from Little Rock, that the Celeste, which was due there on Thursday last, had not arrived yesterday. Capt. Adams will put his light boats in the trade without delay.

The Ozark, which was due here yesterday, had not arrived at a late hour last night.

The Gleaner laid over to await the arrival and transferred her trip to the Ozark, and will not go out until Thursday next.

We learn that Durff parted company with his party a few miles this side of Louisville, and took a buggy for Westport, about twenty-five miles above that city, where he hailed a Cincinnati boat. The cause assigned for this strange freak is that he learned the Dexter was lying at Louisville, and Capt. Montgomery and Arthur Fields were at the depot, awaiting his arrival.

The examination of Capt. Donaldson, for the killing of the mutinous negro, Henry Anderson, which was to have taken place at St. Louis on Saturday, was postponed until to-day.

Guerrillas are plying their avocation on the Tennessee river. The clerk of the Nonesa reports that she had a brush in the vicinity of Louisville a number of shots were fired at her by some unknown persons from the shore. Two of the shots that were fired struck the hurricane deck.

The Dexter, Capt. Montgomery, will pass down this evening for New Orleans and way points.

The fine steamer Belle Lee will pass up to day at 5 p.m. for Cairo and Louisville. Capt. A. McGill is master, and Adolphe Martin clerk.

The Indiana leaves Louisville to-day for New Orleans.

The towboat A. J. Baker passed up yesterday, and an unknown towboat passed down.

The Richmond is reported to have made the run, on her last trip, from Cairo to Orleans in sixty hours, making twenty-two freight landings on the way.

The Ezra Porter is advertised for sale at Cincinnati.

The steamer Miner left St. Louis for Fort Benton on Saturday last.

The Bismarck leaves St. Louis for New Orleans to morrow.

The Kellogg and barges are on the way down from St. Louis.

We clip the following from the Little Rock Republican of the 27th:

"The river at this point has got down to low water mark, with only two feet to Fort Smith and but three feet scant to the mouth.

The Celeste is in the river, but owing to the low stage of water will hardly be able to reach here.

The Cora S. has not been able to get down, and will probably spend the summer above, near the Ozark mountains.

The American is over due, and probably having encountered a sandbar, which has detained her, will be down today—looked for every hour.

The Minnie is due here from St. Louis, though not in the river yet, and the water being so low, she will not be able to get up."

The M. Burns is to leave St. Louis for the Arkansas to-day, provided she gets a trip.

The great freight-carrier, Thompson Dean, is being rapidly completed. Nearly all her machinery is on board at Cincinnati, and most of it in position. The framework on her boiler deck, which includes pantry, cook-house, room and bunks for deck passengers, is almost finished, while her texas is in the same forward condition. The painters are at work on her. She will be ready for business in less than a month—much sooner than business will be ready for her.

Our Latest Improved

NEW SCALE PIANO-FORTE.

GROVESTEEN & CO.,

499 Broadway, N. Y.,

THESE instruments, after the most flattering testimonials from the first Pianists in the country, who, at our solicitation, have tested them in the severest manner possible, have been pronounced THE FINEST SQUARE PIANO-FORTE MADE IN THE WORLD.

It has always been our policy, during the thirty-six years that we have manufactured Pianos, twelve thousand of which are now in use in the United States and Europe, to give the finest instrument at the lowest cost. Our superior facilities enable us to offer them from one to three hundred dollars less than any other First Class House.

The tone of these instruments are remarkable for their peculiar Sweetness and Great Brilliancy, never losing their quality when forced to their utmost capacity. The lower register retaining its positiveness, does not destroy the middle and upper registers by mingling with them in disagreeable confusion, the refined beauty of tone being equally delightful to the unpracticed and to the most cultivated ear.

They are an entirely new style of Piano, finished in the most superb manner, with four-and-round corners front and back, heavily carved legs and Lyre Serpentine Base richly moulded, and each instrument is fully warranted for five years.

MEMPHIS APPEAL.

BY TELEGRAPH.

Noon Dispatches.

BROWNSVILLE, June 27, 7 p.m.—The Supreme Court, at its session to-day, announced its opinion in the case of Apperson vs. Bynum, reversing the judgment below and remanding the cause for a new trial. Adjourned until Monday at four o'clock.

NEW YORK, June 29.—The Herald's Washington special says Ward H Lemon has been summoned to appear before the Butler investigating committee. It is understood that the committee base upon his testimony some hopes of getting a few more names of persons supposed to have something to do with the acquittal of the President.

The report of the impeachment managers will probably not be presented to the House before Wednesday.

A Times Washington dispatch says the Senate Finance Committee decided against the Port of Entry bill, if called, which provides that packages of imported goods may be carried to St. Louis, Cincinnati and Chicago, without breaking the bulk, for the reason that in their opinion it does not sufficiently guard against fraud. Another bill for the same purpose has therefore been prepared, but the committee stand about equally divided—Senator Henderson being absent. Some of the Eastern members, in both Houses, are opposed to both bills, and may be able to prevent final action upon them this session.

WASHINGTON, June 29.—The Congressional Committee, of which Mr. Lincoln is chairman, proceeded to the Adjutant General's office and Second Auditor's office on Saturday, and began an investigation into the charges of fraud in the settlement of colored soldiers' bounties. Sufficient evidence was obtained to warrant a continuation of the examination of the supposed frauds, and all the rooms containing the records in which the proof of alleged frauds is to be found have been locked, placed in charge of men who are instructed to permit no unauthorized persons to enter them, and the further transaction of business interdicted until the investigation is closed. The Commissioner has examined several clerks connected with the bureaus, and elicited from them some very important evidence, which, it is understood, implicates some of their superior officers. Several parties have been arrested and others will be to-day.

NEW YORK, June 29.—The majority of the delegates from Georgia to the Democratic Convention have arrived. They represent the conduct of the military authorities in that State as intolerable to the last degree.

In the course of hunting up evidence concerning the assassination of Ashburn, several persons, both white and black, have been arrested. They are all held as witnesses, and confined in narrow cells at Fort Pulaski.

The military authorities have offered a reward of two thousand dollars for the arrest and conviction of the ring leaders of the attack on Ashburn, and one thousand dollars for the arrest and conviction of each of the other parties concerned. Preliminary investigations, it is said, implicate upwards of forty persons in the murder.

Two pugilists, known as Yellow Davis and Tim Crowley, had a prize fight early yesterday morning, near the Dutch Killers toll gate, Long Island. One hundred and four rounds were fought in one hour and forty minutes, and Crowley was declared the victor on account of a foul blow struck by his opponent. Both were badly punished.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL.

OFFICE OF THE DAILY PPEAL, MEMPHIS, June 29, 1868.

Except the closing up of the Merchants' National Bank there has been very little of interest transpiring in our money market during the week. The suspension of this bank, which has long stood among the highest in our city, was not followed by the excitement which prevailed at the close of other banks a few months since. This was caused by the fact that there were only a few of the small class of depositors; and many of them have, we believe, been secured in a satisfactory manner. By a card from Mr. Cherry, the President, which appeared in our columns of yesterday, it appears that less than $23,000 was due depositors, which was not provided for at the time the doors closed. Of the causes which led to the suspension, there are many assigned, but it is believed that it was urged by parties opposed to Mr. A. T. Lacey, Vice-President of the bank, and who has been a prominent candidate at Washington for appointment to the vacant New Orleans Collectorship. It is said that Col. Bridgeland, a gentleman well-known here—an ex-New York banker and brother-in-law of the President of the First National Bank, of this city—is also a candidate for that position; and it is intimated that if the account of Mr. Lacey with his own bank can be shown to be largely overdrawn, that it will ruin his prospects and further those of his opponent. These are only a few of the rumors afloat. Messrs. Cherry and Freeman, the President and Cashier of the collapsed bank, are highly esteemed in this community, and have, we believe, lost their all in the institution, their fortunes being wrecked with the bank. A statement, showing how matters stand, will be given to the public in a very short time, and will be looked for with no little interest.

Gold in New York opened at 140¼c and closed at 140¼c. In this market brokers buy at 138½ to 139c; selling at 140c.

The offerings of exchange are about equal to the demand. There has been no currency shipped East of consequence during the week, nor is there likely to be any for some eight or ten days to come. Rates are the same as at our last. Buying at par and selling on all points North and East at ¼ to ⅜c premium.

The stock market is quiet and quotations nominal. Memphis city bonds are perhaps firmer than other securities, and it is hard to find sellers at 55 to 56c. We quote as before: Memphis and Charleston Railroad stock, 55c. Memphis and Little Rock bonds, 42 to 44c. Memphis and Ohio Railroad stock, 10s; 1st mortgage bonds 10s, 80c; 2d mortgage bonds 8s, 20c. Mississippi Central Railroad bonds, 1st mortgage, 57 to 58c; 2d mortgage, 40 to 41c. Mississippi and Tennessee, 1st mortgage, 50c; 2d mortgage, 33c.

The First National Bank has already commenced paying the July coupons of city bonds, due on the 1st prox.

City Scrip is inactive, with very little on the market. Brokers bid 75c, without finding sellers, and are slow to sell at less than 80c, though we heard of a few hundred changing hands at 77½c.

County Warrants are dull at 60c buying; selling at 63 to 65c. There is no disposition to speculate in Warrants, and few are taken by brokers, except they "have a place to put them."

Police Scrip is weak and tends downward. Buying at 77 to 78c; selling at 83 to 85c.

The news from all sections regarding the coming cotton crop is not as favorable as it was last week, owing to the continued drouth. We learn of no recent rains, except along the Arkansas river. The markets for the week have been variable. In Liverpool, at the opening, cotton was dull—Uplands, 11¼ to 11¾d; Orleans, 11¼ to 11¾d. It declined id almost immediately, and did not react [illegible] Thursday, when the Liverpool market became more active, tending upwards; and in New York 30c was refused for Middlings, which went to 31c on Friday in that market. To-day the Liverpool market, at the opening, was quiet but steady—Uplands, 11¼ to 11¼d; Orleans, 11¼ to 11½d. There was no change whatever to the close; sales 10,000 bales. The New York market at the opening was dull and prices unchanged, and at the close was dull, but holders were firm, asking 31½c for Middlings—sales 1000 bales. The week's sales in New York foot up 13,000 bales, against 15,000 last week. Of this amount exporters took 860 bales. Stock on hand Saturday evening, 54,000 bales, against 55,500 last week—a falling off of 1100 bales. The week's receipts amounted to 4135 bales, against 3650 last week. Receipts at all United States ports, 3000 bales, or 700 bales less than the preceding week. The amount of cotton afloat on Friday last was 53,900 bales, of which 39,000 was American. This is a falling off in total stock of 22,000 bales, and in American alone of 32,000 bales, showing the increase of India afloat to be 10,000 bales. The total sales for the week ending Saturday last, in Liverpool, were 68,000 bales; to speculators 9000 and to exporters 14,000. Stock on hand 607,000 bales, of which 369,000 was American, a falling off in total stock of 3000 bales, and in American of 5000 bales. Our market for the week has been very quiet. A sale of from one to ten bales is occasionally reported, but there is really no market. An offer of 24c to-day for 25 bales, running from Ordinary to Good Ordinary, was refused. Holders are asking 30c for Middlings, where any are to be found, and buyers offer 29c. Those are the only thing like quotations we can give.

Wholesale Market.

We may look for no very material change in the general markets for some weeks to come. Wheat is coming in steadily, but so far there has not been enough received to cause more than a temporary relief to shippers. Prices are weak and tending lower, as the crop arrives at maturity in the Northern States. The dry weather, which has prevailed throughout many sections of the South, has seriously injured the corn and cotton crops; but it has done no material injury to the wheat crop. Without the harvest should turn wet, there is the most favorable prospects in view for cereals all over the North and West, as well as in Europe. From Australia alone comes the cry of poor crops. The rust has destroyed the wheat in that country. In view of all these facts, an exchange thinks that breadstuffs will rule remarkably low in this country—in fact, the supply bids fair to exceed the demand to such an extent that a large surplus will be the result wherewith to commence the next season. England and France have been large consumers of our grain, but the prospect for the coming season is that they will not send us any orders at all, and it is a problem what we shall do with the surplus of stock not needed for home consumption. It would not, indeed, be surprising if wheat became a drug in the market, and the quality of the yield bids fair to be of such fine order as that we may reasonably look for "choice extras" to sell at merely nominal figures, say five dollars per barrel. While this bears hard upon our farmers, yet it will be most gratifying and cheering to that portion of our population composing the largest number of inhabitants, who form the laboring class, and to whom the question of bread is of all the most essential and most important.

The dry goods market for the week has been quiet. Bleached and brown domestics have advanced ⅛c per yard since our last, which is the only material change we have to report. Stocks are excellent for the season, and it is thought in business circles that staple goods will open out for the fall at an advance over present prices.

The boot and shoe trade has been very fair during the week, and stocks are working down. Prices are firm and tending upwards—in fact, brogans have advanced from five to ten cents per pair during the week, and all orders now being filled cost more than when the stocks now on hand were purchased. A steady trade prevails with the interior. In Boston, prices are very firm, and, with the present prospect in the leather market, are likely to rule higher rather than otherwise for the next sixty days. Manufacturers are buying stock freely, in anticipation of a further advance in prices, and to enable them to fill without loss orders already taken.

Receipts of produce continue good from the interior, while the demand for corn, oats and hay is somewhat light and prices are weak.

There is good shipping demand for potatoes, onions, etc., and choice are firm at our quotations.

The grocery market is without special interest, and prices are much the same as last week.

Meats are quiet and lower, with only a moderate stock and demand. Lard is dull; 25 kegs sold on the levee during the day at 18¾c.

We have no change to report in the stock market. The demand is local entirely.

Our merchants are laying in their supply of bagging for the coming season; but, as yet, it is not possible to say what prices will range at. We think, however, that it will be lower than last year.

Wheat has been in good demand, but is lower than last week. Sales have run from $1 75 to $2, as to quality and cleanliness. There is not importance enough attached to this latter by our grain-growers. Among the sales to-day we noted 175 bushels No. 2 at $1 75, and a small lot of No. 1 at $2 02½. We quote inferior, $1 50 to 1 65; No. 2, $1 75 to 1 85; No. 1, $2 00.
